MISSION IN MOTION

Our vehicles get around in Sonoma County! They travel in residential and commercial areas, transporting individuals with disabilities. We travel about 2,274 miles every workday.

However, to operate one vehicle costs an average of $6,500 per year. Your support is an affordable way for your business to advertise in Sonoma County, while supporting community inclusion for individuals with disabilities.

Becoming Independent is the largest provider of non-ambulatory transportation in Sonoma County acting as a resource for other agencies. We work with the City of Santa Rosa Department of Parks and Recreation, West County School Systems, and the Earl Baum Center for the Blind.
